REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,
Washington, January 3, 1934.

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following report in accordance with the provisions of section 333 of the United States Revised Statutes, covering the activities of the Currency Bureau in the year ended October 31, 1933. This Bureau was organized under an act of Congress passed February 25, 1863. This is the seventy-first report made to Congress since the organization of the Bureau. The period covered by this report was one of the most eventful in American history. It witnessed disturbances which seriously threatened complete collapse of the banking system of the Nation. Crises had developed in several States, but the storm broke most menacingly in the State of Michigan. Governor William A. Comstock issued his proclamation on February 13, 1933, which closed all the banks in that State. Fear spread among depositors and heavy withdrawals occurred everywhere. The huge sum of $1,630,000,000 was withdrawn in cash. These events occurred just before a change in the National Administration. Prompt and courageous action was imperatively necessary to meet this great national crisis.

The President, early on the morning of March 6, issued his proclamation that all banking institutions and branches thereof located in the United States, including the territorial and insular possessions, maintain a bank holiday for the 4-day period from March 6 to March 9, inclusive. On March 9, 1933, the day of the expiration of the temporary banking holiday, existing by virtue of the proclamation by the President, a message was directed to Congress by the President requesting immediate enactment of legislation giving the executive branch of the Government control over banks for the protection of depositors and for further authority necessary to the reorganization and reopening of such banks.

In accordance with the request of the President, Congress passed, without a dissenting vote, an act as of March 9, known as the "Emergency Banking Act" and entitled "An act to provide relief in the existing national emergency in banking, and for other purposes." On the same day, immediately subsequent to the passage of this act, and in accordance with authority extended thereby, the President issued a second proclamation continuing in full force and effect the regulations and orders incorporated in the first proclamation of March 6, thereby indefinitely extending the bank holiday.

On March 11, 1933, the President announced that a definite program had been adopted for the reopening of banks and that in accordance therewith banks throughout the country would be reopened progressively on the 13th, 14th, and 15th days of March. The plan of reopening, as further detailed by the announcement thereof, provided that eligible banks would receive licenses to open from the Secretary of the Treasury, such licenses to be granted effective Monday, March 13, for both national and State bank members of the Federal Reserve System located in each of the 12 Federal Reserve bank cities; effective, Tuesday, March 14, for banks located in the 250 cities of the country having active recognized clearing-house associations; and effective Wednesday, March 15, for all banks located elsewhere. With reference to nonmember State banks, the President, in his Executive order of March 10, 1933, said:

The appropriate authority having immediate supervision of banking institutions in each State or any place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States is authorized and empowered under such regulations as such authority may prescribe to permit any banking institution in such State or place, other than banking institutions covered by the foregoing paragraph, to perform any or all of their usual banking functions, except as otherwise prohibited.

Licenses were issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to State member banks upon the recommendation of the Federal Reserve banks and to national banks upon the recommendation of the Federal Reserve banks, the Comptroller of the Currency and his examiners.

There were 5,916 active national banks which suspended ordinary banking operations in accordance with the President's proclamation. Under the plan for reopening the banks, as announced by the President, 4,510 national banks, with deposits of $16,222,583,000, based on the December 31, 1932, call for reports of condition, were licensed to reopen during the 3 days, March 13, 14, and 15, and 6 banks with deposits of $8,246,934 were placed in charge of receivers or otherwise liquidated during the banking holiday, leaving 1,400 national banks unlicensed as of March 16, 1933, with deposits of $1,940,495,230.<sup>1</sup>

The Emergency Banking Act of March 9 also extended, under title II cited as the "Bank Conservation Act", authority to the Comptroller of the Currency, whenever such action should be deemed necessary by him for the purpose of conserving the assets of such banks for the benefit of depositors, to appoint conservators for national banks and banks operating under his supervision. Such conservators, vested generally with the rights, powers, and privileges of national bank receivers would be required to take possession of the assets and records of the banks under the direction of the Comptroller and to thereafter take such action as might be necessary to conserve such assets pending further disposition thereof as provided by law.

Under authority granted by title II of the Emergency Banking Act the Comptroller placed 1,105 banks in conservatorship to December 31, 1933. Of the total 1,105 banks so placed in conservatorship, 1,088 were among the 1,400 national banks unlicensed on March 16, while the additional 17 appointments were for 10 State banks in Washington, D.C., 5 banks for which licenses were granted prior to March 16 but later revoked, 1 bank for which license was granted after March 16 but later revoked, and 1 bank which suspended business prior to the banking holiday. The remaining 312 of the unlicensed national banks on March 16 were either licensed without the appointments of conservators, placed in receivership, or otherwise went into liquidation.<sup>1</sup>

In addition to the 1,400 national banks unlicensed on March 16, conservators were appointed for 7 other national banks as outlined in the paragraph above, making a total of 1,407 national banks the affairs of which had not been definitely and finally disposed of on March 16. Total deposits of these 1,407 national banks, based upon the December 31, 1932, call report as to the 312 banks subsequently disposed of without the appointments of conservators, and upon conservators' first report figures for the 1,095 conservator banks, totaled $1,959,467,250. In connection with the disposition of these banks and the deposits thereof it is found that as of December 31, 1933, 489 with deposits of $562,806,477 had been licensed, 336 with deposits of $789,633,608 placed in receivership, 452 with deposits of $425,278,830 were still unlicensed, and 130 with deposits of $181,748,335 were otherwise in liquidation. Total deposits made available to creditors of the 1,407 banks to December 31, 1933, through the licensing and reopening of such banks or the formation of new banks and the sale, at par value plus accrued interest, of assets to and assumption of liability by such banks, amounted to approximately $745,199,000. Of such deposits released $512,471,000 had been made available to creditors of the 489 licensed banks, $109,323,000 to creditors of the 336 banks placed in receivership and $123,405,000 to creditors of the 130 banks otherwise in liquidation. There has been released through distributions by conservators and receivers, in addition to the above amount of $745,199,000, approximately $230,000,000, leaving tied up approximately $984,268,250. Of the remaining 452 unlicensed national banks, 342 with frozen deposits of $331,852,000, based on the October 25, 1933, call, had approved plans for reorganization and 110 with frozen deposits of $68,582,000 had disapproved plans.<sup>1</sup>

While the approval of a plan of reorganization does not complete the work involved in these cases, I feel that the major problem of the unlicensed banks from a reorganization standpoint has been largely solved. This accomplishment has only been possible through the intelligent hard work of the employees of the Comptroller's office in Washington and in the field, the cooperation of the Federal Reserve banks, and the aid rendered by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

There is another phase of banking which is now having the active attention of the Comptroller's office—the strengthening of the capital structure of national banks by new capital through the purchase by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of preferred stock. I am confident that with an extension of the powers of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and a completion of the present policy in this direction the national banking system will be on a firm basis.

Under the provisions of the Banking Act of 1933, the Comptroller of the Currency was named an ex-officio member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Board. The President appointed the two other members: Hon. Walter J. Cummings, of Chicago, and Hon. E. G. Bennett, of Ogden, Utah, and on September 11, 1933, they took their oath. During the interim between the passage of the law and the organization of the Board, I felt it necessary to lay the foundation for the organization of the corporation in view of the fact that it would be necessary to examine over 8,000 State institutions before January 1, 1934. These activities were reported to the directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at their first meeting held on September 11, 1933. I am taking the liberty of quoting from the report:

The Comptroller first prepared a chart outlining the divisions of the insurance corporation in order to call the attention of the bankers to the various activities which would be under the direction of the Board and to give to the public an idea of its general operation as well as to create a definite picture of the problems with which the directors would be confronted.

After a conference with the President the early part of July, the President sent a letter to the governors of each of the States calling attention to the provisions of the Banking Act of 1933. The letter was as follows:

"My DEAR GOVERNOR: You have no doubt given serious consideration to the provisions of the Glass-Steagall bill, known as the 'Banking Act of 1933,' which was approved by me on June 16, 1933.

"This act contains far-reaching provisions with reference to State banks. In a very short time, to wit, January 1, 1934, certain State banks which secure a certificate of solvency from the proper State banking authority and which after examination are found satisfactory to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation will be admitted to the benefits of the insurance fund.

"In order that State banks may receive the ultimate benefits of the act, it will be necessary in many States for additional legislation; in others, amendments to existing laws, and in others, constitutional changes. You will appreciate the necessity of immediate action in order that the benefits of this act will be as widely distributed as possible.

"May I suggest to you that you call together representatives of your State banking department, together with leading State bankers, to discuss with you the necessary legislative changes or constitutional amendments to bring about the desired effect.

"I call your particular attention to the following paragraph of the Banking Act of 1933, which is found under subsection (y) of section 8 (last paragraph), which reads as follows:

"It is not the purpose of this section to discriminate, in any manner, against State nonmember, and in favor, of national or member banks; but the purpose is to provide all banks with the same opportunity to obtain and enjoy the benefits of this title. No bank shall be discriminated against because its capital stock is less than the amount required for eligibility for admission into the Federal Reserve System."

"Thanking you for your prompt consideration of this matter, I beg to remain

"_____
President."

With the permission of the President the Comptroller sent a letter to the governors asking to be advised as to the action taken in accordance with the President's letter. The letter was as follows:

"My DEAR GOVERNOR: The President has handed me your letter of _____. If it is not too much trouble, would you let me have the following information for my permanent files in connection with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation created under the Glass-Steagall bill:

"(1) Date of conference called by you as suggested in the President's letter of July 6th.

"(2) Names and addresses of those who participated in the conference.

"(3) Action, if any, taken by the conference.

"(4) Any suggestions the conference had to make which should be considered by the directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation when organized.

"(5) The total number of State banks in your State.

"(6) The number of State banks closed in your State.

"(7) The number of closed State banks in your State which may possibly be reopened.

"(8) The number of State banks in receivership in your State which have no chance of being reopened.

"(9) If two or more State banks desire to consolidate in your State, what percentage of stock must favor the merger?

"The new corporation will shortly be perfected, and I should like very much to have this information to lay before the new board.

"Very cordially yours,

"J. F. T. O'CONNOR, Comptroller."

The replies to these letters have been kept in the temporary Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation files in the Comptroller's office.

The Comptroller wrote a letter on July 26, 1933, to the State banking commissioner of each State asking for some 10 to 30 or 40 names for each State of competent men to examine State banks, the number depending on the size of the State and the number of banks therein. A similar letter was sent to the leading Members of the United States Senate asking for like information. In each case it was stated that the Board desired only the names of men experienced in banking with at least 5 years of practical work in banks. It was suggested that at least five letters from bankers as to the character, reputation, and banking experience of each applicant should be submitted. A file of approximately 1,500 names has been built up on this basis and is in the temporary files of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in the examining division of the Comptroller's office. It was the Comptroller's plan in compiling this preliminary list to have a sufficient force at hand to put men into the field at once for the purpose of making the State examinations.

In preparation for the housing of the force of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in Washington, the Comptroller made a thorough examination of the Commercial National Bank Building, located about a block from the Treasury Building. About seven floors in this building are available for office space for the Corporation if desired.

Treasury Department officials asked the Comptroller to advise when demand would be made for the $150,000,000 appropriated by the Government. The Comptroller advised the officers that only necessary organization money would be needed prior to January 1, 1934, and after that date $10,000,000 or $15,000,000 a month would no doubt be sufficient. The Comptroller was careful to state that this was a tentative suggestion as he had no authority to make any definite commitment.

The Comptroller made the following recommendations to the Board:

1. That each bank applying for insurance be furnished with blank forms, to be completed by the banks, setting forth each asset under a proper heading, and also the amount of its deposit liabilities and obligations to other creditors. This will save much time and the examiner will then check the item and appraise the same.
2. That an examiner who knows the values in the particular State in which he is located be assigned with necessary assistants to each State capital to work with the Banking Commissioner. All examiners in the State would report to the State chief, who in turn, would report to Washington. In this way the work would be decentralized.
3. That the names of the banks insured and their location should be simultaneously announced by the Board.
4. That the largest banking institutions in each State be examined first.
5. That a printed copy of the Bank Act of 1933 be sent to each nonmember State bank operating on an unrestricted basis.

The following is correspondence between Mr. Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the President, showing the status of the work on January 1, 1934:

JANUARY 1, 1934.

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: Pursuant to your request, I have the honor to submit to you a brief report of the work of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

We have insured 13,423 banks. The insurance covers deposits up to $2,500 until July 1, 1934, when the permanent provisions of the Act become operative.

A careful survey shows that 97 percent of the total number of depositors are insured in full.

We found 141 banks ineligible for insurance. A number of them may be insured by making certain corrections. In other words, approximately 1 percent of the applying banks could not qualify. This remarkable record was due to the assistance given by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation by the purchase from banks of preferred stock and capital notes.

I believe that the insuring of bank deposits will not only be of incalculable value in restoring public confidence in the Nation's financial institutions now strengthened, but that it will be of tremendous assistance in hastening the return of prosperity. It will banish the fear of the depositor as to the safety of his money and, from the banker's point of view, the elimination of the possibility of sudden and heavy withdrawals, will make possible the expansion of credit for legitimate purposes.

The Federal Government has subscribed $150,000,000 to the capital of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve banks have subscribed $140,000,000, and in assessments the corporation has received over $37,000,000, making a total of $327,000,000 available funds for the immediate use of the corporation.

I should like to express my real appreciation of the untiring efforts and close cooperation shown by the other two directors of the corporation: Mr. J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller of the Currency, and Mr. E. G. Bennett.

The immediate task you entrusted upon your directors has been accomplished. We now direct our efforts to the advance of a great work—protect deposits and permit banks to function as useful instruments in the recovery program.

Thanking you for the opportunity to serve in this way, I am

Very sincerely yours,

WALTER J. CUMMINGS, Chairman.

The PRESIDENT,
The White House.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, D.C., January 1, 1934.

MY DEAR MR. CUMMINGS: I congratulate you and Mr. Bennett and Mr. O'Connor because you have in these few months accomplished with complete success a gigantic task which the pessimists said could not possibly be done before January 1.

That 97 percent of the bank depositors of the Nation are insured will give renewed faith.

I am also happy to know of the fine cooperation given to you by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Very sincerely yours,

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Mr. WALTER J. CUMMINGS,
Chairman, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

In addition to the new duties of the Comptroller as a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Board, he was appointed to membership on two special committees created by the President, one to be known as the Deposit Liquidation Board, on October 15, 1933, which constitutes a special division of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The President appointed this Board for the purpose of making loans to banks closed since January 1, 1933, on their assets. The board was constituted as follows:

C. B. Merriam, the head of the special board; Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; Dean G. Acheson, Under Secretary of the Treasury; J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller of the Currency; Walter J. Cummings, chairman, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation; Lewis Douglas, Director of the Budget.

"The purposes of the Deposit Liquidation Division", the President's announcement read, "will be to stimulate and encourage liquidating agents of banks closed after January 1, 1933, to borrow from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in order that funds may be made available to depositors as quickly as possible. The general intention is to make loans on the assets of closed banks for the benefit of depositors up to a maximum of 50 percent of their deposits, inclusive of distributions heretofore made. This does not, of course, mean that in a bank whose remaining assets are worthless, the depositors will get 50 percent. They will get in such a case only their share in the remaining assets.

"It is estimated that the maximum loanable value of the assets of banks closed during the year 1933 will not exceed $1,000,000,000, and it is hoped that the distribution will approximate that amount."

We have acted speedily in coming to the rescue of depositors in closed banking institutions. Between October 17, when this Board started functioning, and January 2, 1934, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation authorized $243,119,582.97 for distribution to depositors in 496 closed banks, nearly all of which were closed after the first of the year.

The President, on October 23, 1933, announced the establishment of a special Reconstruction Finance Corporation division for bank reorganization and to make recommendations for purchase by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of preferred stock of State banks. The following members of this new division were named by the President:

Harvey Couch, to be its head; Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, ex-officio; Eugene Black, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board; Dean Acheson, Under Secretary of the Treasury; Lewis Douglas, Director of the Budget; J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller of the Currency; Walter J. Cummings, chairman, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation; Henry Bruere; Frank Walker.

At the same time the President announced that "Governor Black is to head a subcommittee on cooperation with member banks in this same effort." The prime purpose behind the formation of this special division was to prepare State banks for eligibility in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation by January 1 in that the sale by them of preferred stock will strengthen their capital structure. "We hope", President Roosevelt said, in announcing the creation of this Division, "that all banks will take advantage of this opportunity to put themselves in an easy cash position to help in the work of recovery. We need the banks and want them to have adequate capital. As a rule such capital cannot now easily be found in the communities. As recovery continues such capital will be found. But in the meanwhile and temporarily, but for such length of time as may be necessary, the Government will supply the necessary capital through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in its purchase of preferred stock. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation will thus serve as a recovery finance corporation.

"The banks must feel free to function well, and the Government will help them prepare themselves to play their important part.

"To accept the Government's offer to purchase preferred stock does not mean that a bank is weak but that it is eager to cooperate in the recovery effort to the fullest possible extent and thus undertake to put this additional capital to work. We are not thinking of idle capital. We are thinking of working capital—capital working for recovery."

As a member of the Board appointed by President Roosevelt, I can say with pardonable pride that we have made a good record so far in strengthening State banks through the purchases of their preferred stocks, capital notes, and debentures by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. From October 23, the date of creation of this division by the President, to the close of business on December 31, a total of 3,323 nonmember banks had a total of $242,100,000 approved for issue, of which amount $84,936,000 consisted of preferred stock and $157,164,000 consisted of capital notes and debentures.

In addition to the above record made by the special division in such a short time, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation during the 7 months ended December 31, 1933, approved the purchase of a total of $65,336,000 in preferred stock, capital notes, and debentures in 78 nonmember banks. During the same time the corporation approved 1,059 applications from member banks for a total issue of $502,930,000, of which amount $372,868,000 was in preferred stock and $130,062,000 in capital notes and debentures.

Never in our history has the Federal Government done so much to aid distressed depositors in closed banks by declaring dividends from the loans made on the assets, as well as the purchase by the Government of preferred stock, capital notes, and debentures in the banks in the country.

SPEECHES

It was my pleasure to make the following addresses in the period from June 14, 1933, to November 25, 1933, with respect to these activities:

June 14—Before the Minnesota State Bankers' Association, Minneapolis, Minn.

July 19—Before a meeting of the District of Columbia Division of the Young Democratic Clubs of America held at Washington, D.C. (broadcast over a network of the National Broadcasting Co.).

September 7—Before the convention of the American Bankers' Association, Chicago, Ill.

October 18—Before the Dallas Clearing House Association, Dallas, Tex.

October 19—Before the Fort Worth Clearing House Association, Fort Worth, Tex.

October 21—Before the Houston Clearing House Association, Houston, Tex.

November 25—Before the semiannual meeting of group 5 of the California Bankers' Association, Los Angeles, Calif.

LEGISLATION

On June 16, 1933, "The Banking Act of 1933" became law. This legislation as a whole is sound and contains many much needed provisions of law, but like most major legislation, application by administrative officers reveals certain features which, in practice, work in a cumbersome manner or bring about situations which its framers did not intend. I recommend, therefore, that Congress enact corrective and clarifying legislation in the following respects. These recommendations, while made as specific suggestions for revision of the act in those respects which appear, in the light of practical operation, to require revision, and as to the defects which require remedies, are not intended to be specific with respect to the provisions or language of possible amendments:

1. Section 2 of the act defines "affiliates" and "holding company affiliates" of a member bank. Numerous questions have arisen with respect to the application of these definitions to various situations with the result that the Secretary of the Treasury requested an opinion from the Attorney General who held that the law must be interpreted literally since the language was unambiguous, even though it might appear to be in conflict with the intentions of the framers of the act as expressed subsequent to the passage of the legislation. As a result it has been found that a large number of different types of corporations, which Congress may not have intended affecting, are apparent affiliates of member banks such as retail clothing corporations, packing companies, newspapers, lumber yards, steamship companies, churches, eleemosynary institutions, etc.

Section 27 of the act which amends section 5211 of the Revised Statutes (U.S.C., title 12, section 161; supplement VI, title 12, section 161), provides that each national banking association shall obtain from its affiliates not less than three reports during each year containing such information as in the judgment of the Comptroller of the Currency shall be necessary to disclose fully the relations between such affiliate and such bank, and also provides for the publication of such reports. Section 5 (c), which is an amendment of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act as amended, makes similar provisions with respect to State member banks of the Federal Reserve System.

The result of these mandatory requirements has been the accumulation in the Comptroller's office of a great deal of information which has no practical use, since in many cases there is no dealing between the incidental affiliates and the national banks except the relationship created by the definition under the act. Moreover, the furnishing and publication of such reports has placed a tremendous burden as well as expense on some of the banks and has naturally led to confusion in some instances in the minds of the public. This accidental affiliate relationship arises under the definition by reason of the fact that particularly in small communities, the leading business men and the most eligible and desirable men for directors of the bank also control one or more private business interests of their own with the result the bank faces the loss of these directors if the affiliate relationship is to be discontinued.

While it is not believed necessary in this particular connection to amend the definition with respect to affiliates, it is advisable to amend the sections calling for the reports and the publication of reports in such a way as to give discretion both to the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Reserve Board to waive the furnishing or publication of the reports upon a proper showing. There are, however, certain accidental affiliates in addition to those mentioned which it is not thought Congress intended to embrace in the requirements set out in the act, which should be specifically exempted, as follows:

(a) Where a bank is in possession of a majority of the voting shares of a corporation as collateral to a debt of a corporation to the bank and may or may not control said shares for voting purposes to protect said debt.

(b) Where the bank has come into control of the majority of the voting shares of a corporation as a result of foreclosure on such shares which were collateral to a debt due the bank.

(c) Where the bank holds a majority of the voting shares of a corporation as trustee and controls the voting of same subject to the terms of the trust instrument or without any governing direction in the trust instrument but merely subject to the common-law duty to exercise the control over said shares in the best interests of the particular trust estate; as for example, where a bank as trustee in a mortgage indenture has foreclosed on the mortgage, taking title to the fee in a newly formed corporation, all or a majority of the voting stock of which is controlled by the bank in its capacity as trustee for the beneficiaries.

(d) Where a bank holds a majority of voting stock in a custody account for the benefit of certain of its customers, the stock possibly being registered in the name of the bank, and in the absence of specific instructions from the customer, the bank causing such stock to be voted as it sees fit, but presumably for the benefit of the real party in interest, namely, the customer.

The definitions under section 2 of the act should be clarified so as to remove the doubt which now exists as to whether or not such definitions apply to partnerships having in mind that the word "partnership" is not used in section 2 but is used in sections 32 and 33 of the act. Clarification should be made to eliminate the doubt as to whether or not a bank can have more than one holding-company affiliate, as arises where a corporation controls a corporation which is a holding-company affiliate of a bank by reason of owning or controlling a majority of the bank's stock. The section should also be clarified so as to indicate whether or not a subsidiary of a holding company or an affiliate thereof thereby also becomes an affiliate of the bank controlled by the holding company. This is important because of the provisions of section 13 governing transactions between the bank and its affiliates and section 20 with respect to divorcements of affiliates.

2. Section 11 (b) provides that no member bank shall directly or indirectly by any device whatsoever pay any interest on any deposit which is payable on demand except as to deposits of public funds made by or on behalf of any State, county, school district, or other subdivision or municipality with respect to which payment of interest is required under State law. It also provides that no member bank shall pay any time deposit before its maturity.

The foregoing section permits a bank to pay interest on a demand deposit made by or on behalf of a State or political subdivision thereof, where payment of interest is required under State law but no exception or provision for payment of interest is made with respect to deposits of Federal public funds upon which funds existing statutes require the depositing official to obtain interest. As a result the Federal depositing official is confronted on the one hand with the requirement that he obtain interest on his deposits, if placed in the bank, whereas the bank, on the other hand, by this section is apparently prohibited from paying such interest on a demand deposit, thus discriminating against Federal depositing officials of public funds and in favor of State depositing officials. This should be corrected.

This section also prohibits a bank from paying any time deposit before its maturity. This results in a hardship in particular instances which was probably not contemplated in selecting the language used. In many instances by reason of a restriction agreement entered into by depositors of banks or as a result of reorganizations, the depositors have agreed to accept a percentage of their deposits payable at extended intervals such as 6 months, 1 year, 2 years, etc. Such restricted deposits have been considered by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as not deposits available in due course of business, hence not insurable. Many of the banks are now in such liquid position that they are willing and anxious to anticipate payment of these restricted deposits but the literal application of the language of this section appears to prohibit such anticipation with the result that the present policy of doing everything possible to make frozen deposits available to depositors is obstructed.

3. Section 12 of the act provides in substance that no executive officer of any member bank shall borrow or otherwise become indebted to any member bank of which he is an executive officer. This section includes a penal provision. The term "executive officer", in the absence of a definition by Congress, is not susceptible of a meaning which is definite enough to enable the Comptroller of the Currency and his examiners to advise the banks in regard thereto with any degree of certainty or to determine in the examination of a bank whether the section has been violated by reason of a loan to a particular officer.

The Attorney General in an opinion dated August 18, 1933, has stated that no categorical answer could be given to the question as to who are "executive officers", because "it is not the designation under which one is known but the nature of his duties which characterize him as an 'executive officer.' " The question also arises in connection with this section as to whether or not a bank is prohibited from accepting the accommodation endorsement or guarantee of an executive officer in connection with an obligation not incurred for his benefit such as agreements in favor of the bank by executive officers as a guarantee against depreciation or elimination of assets in order to avoid impairments of capital. This section should also be clarified so as to indicate whether or not a loan to a partnership in which an executive officer of the bank is a partner comes within the prohibition.

4. Section 16, amending paragraph 7 of section 5136, Revised Statutes, as amended (U.S.C., title 12, sec. 24; supp. VI, title 12, sec. 24), provides in part that "The business of dealing in investment securities by national banks shall be limited to purchasing and selling such securities without recourse solely upon the order and for the account of customers, and in no case for its own account." The section also defines "investment securities" as being marketable obligations evidencing indebtedness of any person, copartnership, association, or corporation in the form of bonds, notes and/or debentures. It would appear from the language that a national bank is prohibited from performing the service of purchasing or selling corporate stocks for the account of one of its customers. Since this does not entail the investment by the bank of its own funds and the bank merely acts in an accommodation capacity, it is believed that it was not the intention of Congress to penalize the public located in communities removed from the money centers in disposing of or purchasing securities in the form of corporate stocks for investment purposes.

5. Section 18, amending section 5139, Revised Statutes, as amended (U.S.C., title 12, sec. 52), provides in part that "After 1 year from the date of the enactment of the Banking Act of 1933 no certificate representing stock of any such association shall represent the stock of any other corporation", with provision for certain exceptions. Some of the national banks are confronted with the problem of not being able to secure the surrender of certificates by all the holders of shares of stock of the bank for the purpose of issuing new shares which will comply with the provisions of the act if the act is not self-operative. It is possible that Congress intended that such separation of interest would be automatic without the issuance of new certificates representing shares of bank stock. If such were the intention, the section should be clarified by providing that its prohibitions shall be effective notwithstanding any representations to the contrary that may thereafter appear on such stock certificates.

6. Section 20 of the act provides that after 1 year from the date of its enactment, no member bank shall be affiliated in any manner with any corporation, association, business trust, or other similar organization engaged principally in the issue, flotation, underwriting, public sale, or distribution at wholesale or retail or through syndicate participation of stocks, bonds, debentures, notes, or other securities. Violation of this section subjects the member bank to a penalty not exceeding $1,000 per day for each day during which such violation continues.

There is some uncertainty as to whether or not the activities of certain affiliate corporations come within the provisions of this penal statute. While there is indication in the debates that it was aimed at what is commonly known as securities affiliates in the sense of affiliates dealing in stock exchange securities, yet the language is broad and refers to "bonds, debentures, notes, or other securities." Numerous national banks are affiliated through common stock ownership with what is commonly known as a mortgage corporation which makes loans on real-estate securities or in some cases may make loans on chattel mortgage securities, on automobiles, or other chattels. There has, in the past, been some encouragement to the organization of such affiliates, even since the passage of this act, for the purpose of such affiliates borrowing from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and thereby in turn facilitating extension of credit where credit was needed, and the banks themselves could not for various reasons extend such credit. The section should be so clarified as to enable those affected by its penal provisions to clearly understand what particular activities are embraced within the scope of the section.

7. Section 21 (a) provides that—

After the expiration of one year after the date of enactment of this Act it shall be unlawful (1) For any person, firm, corporation, association, business trust, or other similar organization, engaged in the business of issuing, underwriting, selling, or distributing, at wholesale or retail, or through syndicate participation, stocks, bonds, debentures, notes, or other securities, to engage at the same time to any extent whatever in the business of receiving deposits subject to check or to repayment upon presentation of a passbook, certificate of deposit, or other evidence of debt, or upon request of the depositor; or

(2) For any person, firm, corporation, association, business trust, or other similar organization, other than a financial institution or private banker subject to examination and regulation under State or Federal law, to engage to any extent whatever in the business of receiving deposits subject to check or to repayment upon presentation of a passbook, certificate of deposit, or other evidence of debt, or upon request of the depositor, unless such person, firm, corporation, association, business trust, or other similar organization shall submit to periodic examination by the Comptroller of the Currency or by the Federal Reserve bank of the district and shall make and publish periodic reports of its condition, exhibiting in detail its resources and liabilities, such examination and reports to be made and published at the same times and in the same manner and with like effect and penalties as are now provided by law in respect of national banking associations transacting business in the same locality.

This section is likewise a penal provision and (a) (1) requires the same clarification as is required of section 20, so that it can be clearly understood as to what dealing in securities brings a business entity within its application.

Section (a) (2) requires clarification because its literal language may affect activities not contemplated. For example, a large number of corporations for the accommodation of their employees and families offer facilities for leaving funds on deposit with the corporation at interest. Some corporations permit employees to save through deductions from pay roll which are held by the corporation and payable on demand with interest to the employee. Other corporations have old-age benefit funds to which contributions are made by employees by way of a deposit of funds, which deposit in certain instances may be repayable to the employee on demand, particularly if he should leave the employment. If such activities are to be considered as engaging in the "business of receiving deposits" where there is not a holding out to the general public, then, of course, such corporations as to which such activities are merely incidental to their primary business, will choose to terminate such arrangement to the possible injury and ultimate detriment of their employees rather than submit to examination and make and publish reports of condition of the corporation as a whole.

8. Section 26 (a). The second sentence of the first paragraph of section 5200 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U.S.C., title 12, sec. 84; supp. VI, title 12, sec. 84), is amended by inserting before the period at the end thereof the following:

and shall include in the case of obligations of a corporation all obligations of all subsidiaries thereof in which such corporation owns or controls a majority interest.

This section requires clarification for the purpose of determining whether or not the obligations of all subsidiary corporations must be totaled for the purpose of determining whether or not an excess loan has been made where the bank has made no loan to the parent corporation. The literal language of the section would indicate that if the parent corporation is not indebted to the bank, then the obligations of its subsidiaries need not be totaled as one obligation for limitation purposes, but may be considered as individual loans. Such interpretation is consistent with the practice of not totaling loans to individual partners where the partnership itself is not indebted to the bank and the individual obligations of the partners were not incurred for the benefit of the partnership.

There is considerable uncertainty as to what constitutes a subsidiary as instances have arisen where the parent corporation is 6 corporations removed from another corporation, which is in a sense an affiliate, in that each corporation down the line controls the succeeding corporation with the technical result that the first corporation has the possibility of controlling the sixth corporation, although there are 5 intervening groups of stockholders, and although as a matter of fact there is no actual control exercised by the first corporation over the conduct of the business of the sixth corporation.

9. Section 31 (reading in part)—

After one year from the date of enactment of this Act, notwithstanding any other provisions of law, the board of directors, board of trustees, or other similar governing body of every national banking association and of every State bank or trust company which is a member of the Federal Reserve System shall consist of not less than five nor more than twenty-five members; and every director, trustee, or other member of such governing body shall be the bona fide owner in his own right of shares of stock of such banking association, State bank or trust company having a par value in the aggregate of not less than $2,500, unless the capital of the bank shall not exceed $50,000, in which case he must own in his own right shares having a par value in the aggregate of not less than $1,500, or unless the capital of the bank shall not exceed $25,000, in which case he must own in his own right shares having a par value in the aggregate of not less than $1,000.

In many cases serious practical objection has arisen with respect to the provision in this section increasing the amount of stock which a director is required to own for qualification, particularly in small communities, for the following reasons:

First, frequently, present directors, whom it is desirable to retain on the board are financially unable to make further investment in bank stock, sometimes because they have already contributed to the limit voluntarily for the purpose of meeting capital impairments, etc.

Second. In some cases the stock is closely held with the result that there is none available for purchase by the directors except at a prohibitive price beyond the intrinsic worth of the stock. Incidents have arisen where the present directors will no longer be able to qualify with this requirement, and other desirable directors are either unavailable or cannot be persuaded to purchase requisite stock to qualify, with the result that the bank finds itself with less than the required number of qualified directors and unable to obtain the necessary additional directors.

This condition is particularly true with respect to the smaller banks and should be amended to restore the requirements of the law in existence before the amendment of June 16, 1933.

10. Section 32 (reading in part)—

From and after January 1, 1934, no officer or director of any member bank shall be an officer, director, or manager of any corporation, partnership, or unincorporated association engaged primarily in the business of purchasing, selling or negotiating securities.

The same comment made as to section 20 applies to this section in that it should be clarified so as to indicate clearly what type of securities are referred to. That is, whether as would seem likely, it was intended to apply to the business of dealing in securities commonly dealt in on the stock exchange or whether it is to be taken in the broad sense so as to include the business of making direct mortgage loans or buying and selling mortgage loans.

11. Section 33. The Act entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes," approved October 15, 1914, as amended (U.S.C., title 15, sec. 19) is hereby amended by adding after section 8 thereof the following new section:

SEC. 8A. That from and after the 1st day of January 1934, no director, officer, or employee of any bank, banking association, or trust company, organized or operating under the laws of the United States shall be at the same time a director, officer, or employee of a corporation (other than a mutual savings bank) or a member of a partnership organized for any purpose whatsoever which shall make loans secured by stock or bond collateral to any individual, association, partnership, or corporation other than its own subsidiaries.

This section, if applied literally, has had an effect in many cases possibly not contemplated by Congress. It is to be noted that the prohibition applies to a corporation merely if it makes such secured loans. In other words, if in the course of a year it happened to make two loans secured by stock or bond collateral as an accidental incident to its business, it comes within the application of the section, regardless of the fact that it is not even slightly engaged in the business of making such loans. In large centers banks have on their board of directors men with wide business interests, some of whom may be connected with a number of large corporations, most of which at some time or other may advance funds secured by stock or bond collateral. A retailer may advance them to a manufacturing concern whose product it intends to buy. A corporation may loan funds to some of its employees secured by stock of the corporation owned by the employee. The danger of an accidental violation of this section acts as a deterrent on desirable men with wide business interest and ability, acting as directors of the bank, because they feel they cannot hope to keep so intimately in touch with the daily activities of the other corporations in which they are interested as to be advised when such corporations in an isolated case may happen to make a loan secured by stock or bond collateral, whereas if the section were limited to engaging in the business of making such loans, such problems would be avoided.

12. Section 24b, amending section 3 of act of November 7, 1918, as amended (U.S.C., title 12, section 33), dealing with the consolidation of two national banks should be completely rewritten so as to provide (1) for effective passage of trust fiduciary powers; (2) accountability to dissenting stockholders for proceeds of sale of stock in excess of the appraised value placed thereon; (3) to meet the situation where one appraiser refuses to agree with the other two appraisers as provided for in the act.

13. U.S.R.S., sections 5162, 5163, 5164, 5165, and act of June 20, 1874, c. 343, section 4, provide that in the withdrawal or transfer of registered bonds to secure circulation which are pledged with the Treasurer of the United States, such bonds shall be countersigned by the Comptroller of the Currency. The volume of this countersigning is so heavy due to the increased national bank circulation that it seriously interferes and handicaps the Comptroller and his deputies in handling other matters far more important. It is recommended, therefore, that this section be amended to provide that the Comptroller of the Currency may designate one or more persons to make these countersignatures.

14. Section 19. Section 5144 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U.S.C., title 12, sec. 61), is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5144. In all elections of directors, each shareholder shall have the right to vote the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such shares and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of his shares shall equal, or to distribute them on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall decide; and in deciding all other questions at meetings of shareholders, each shareholder shall be entitled to one vote on each share of stock held by him; except (1) that shares of its own stock held by a national bank as sole trustee shall not be voted, and shares of its own stock held by a national bank and one or more persons as trustees may be voted by such other person or persons, as trustees, in the same manner as if he or they were the sole trustee, and (2) shares controlled by any holding company affiliate of a national bank shall not be voted unless such holding company affiliate shall have first obtained a voting permit as hereinafter provided, which permit is in force at the time such shares are voted. Shareholders may vote by proxies duly authorized in writing; but no officer, clerk, teller, or bookkeeper of such bank shall act as proxy; and no shareholder whose liability is past due and unpaid shall be allowed to vote.

This section with respect to stock in the bank held by it as sole trustee deprives said stock of voting power and makes similar provision with respect to stock of a holding company affiliate which for some reason or other may not have obtained a voting permit. As a result it is found that in certain instances the balance of the outstanding stock still possessed of voting power is less than a majority of the stock issued and outstanding. The National Bank Act provides that in certain types of resolutions by the stockholders a two thirds majority is necessary to sustain such resolution and in one case a simple majority is required. As a result, there would appear to be doubt whether or not the stockholders in possession of voting right in a bank where more than a majority of the bank stock is deprived of a vote under this section can legally adopt a resolution of the type required by statute to be adopted by a majority or two thirds vote. In order to clarify this situation, it is suggested that section 5144 of the Revised Statutes as amended by section 19 of the Banking Act of 1933 be further amended by providing that wherever the law requires that action by the shareholders shall be by either the vote of shareholders owning a majority of the stock or by vote of the shareholders owning two thirds of the stock of the association that in determining said majority or said two thirds, said majority or said two thirds shall be computed upon the basis of the outstanding stock possessed of and entitled to a vote at the time the action is taken.

The sections of the National Bank Act which will be affected by such amendment are as follows: Section 2 of the act of May 1, 1886, U.S.C., title 12, section 30, relative to change of name or location of the bank; section 5142 of the Revised Statutes as amended U.S.C. title 12, section 58, with respect to increase of capital; section 5220, Revised Statutes, U.S.C., title 12, section 181, with respect to vote to go into liquidation; section 5143, Revised Statutes, U.S.C., title 12, section 59, with respect to reduction of capital; section 3, act of June 30, 1876, as amended August 3, 1892, and March 2, 1897, U.S.C., title 12, section 197, with respect to appointment of shareholders' agent in liquidation, and section 5149, Revised Statutes, U.S.C., title 12, section 75, with respect to fixing of date for election of directors.

15. R.S. 5154, U.S.C., title 12, section 35, provides for conversion of State banks into national banks. There has been an increased number of State banks which have applied to the Comptroller of the Currency for conversion. In examining these banks it is found that they possess some assets which it is not legal for national banks to acquire and hold. To require a State bank to eliminate these assets places a burden on it which it may be unable to meet and many times results in its inability to join the national system.

It is recommended that Congress amend this statute to provide that such banks on conversion may continue to carry such nonconforming assets as may be determined, in the discretion of the Comptroller of the Currency, to be acceptable because of their intrinsic value.

NATIONAL BANKS IN THE TRUST FIELD

The administration of trusts in the national banking system during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1933, reached the greatest proportions, both in number of trusts under administration and in the volume of individual trust assets confided to their care than at any time since the first permit to exercise trust powers was issued on February 25, 1915, under section 11 (k) of the Federal Reserve Act.

One thousand eight hundred and forty-five national banks had authority to exercise trust powers on June 30, 1933, with combined capital of $1,285,423,255 and banking resources of $18,320,841,438, which represented 37.6 percent of the number, 84.7 percent of the capital, and 87.8 percent of the resources of all banks in the national banking system.

Of the number authorized to exercise trust powers, 1,478 banks had active trust departments and were administering 100,356 individual trusts with assets aggregating $6,311,657,753, and in addition were administering 10,784 corporate trusts and acting as trustees for outstanding note and bond issues amounting to $10,418,426,937. Compared with 1932, these figures represent a net increase of 6,852, or 6.2 percent, in the number of trusts being administered; an increase of $1,669,592,382, or 26.5 percent, in the volume of individual trust assets; and an increase of $921,180,328, or 8.8 percent, in the volume of bond issues outstanding under which national banks had been named to act as trustees.

A segregation of the number of fiduciary accounts in national banks revealed that 54,095, or 48.7 percent, were those created under private or living trust agreements; 46,261, or 41.6 percent, were trusts being administered under the jurisdiction of the courts, and the remaining 10,784, or 9.7 percent, were trusteeships under corporate bond or note issue indentures. Private trust assets comprised $5,029,485,372, or 79.7 percent, of the total assets under administration, while the remaining $1,282,172,381, or 20.3 percent, belonged to court trusts. Invested trust funds aggregated $5,831,556,503, of which bonds constituted 43.17 percent; real-estate mortgages, 12.16 percent; stocks, 33.15 percent; and miscellaneous assets, 11.52 percent.

The substantial development of trust activities in these institutions is further emphasized by comparing the record in 1933 with that of 1928, which reflects an increase during the 5-year period of 47,364, or 42.6 percent, in the number of trusts being administered; an increase of $3,014,347,634, or 47.8 percent, in the volume of individual trust assets under administration, and an increase of $2,440,038,083, or 23.4 percent, in the volume of bond and note issues outstanding for which national banks are acting as trustees.

The extent to which national banks have been named to act by the insuring public as administrator of policy proceeds is revealed by the fact that 206 banks were acting as trustees under 617 insurance trust agreements involving $32,719,615 in proceeds from insurance policies, while 637 national banks had been named trustees under 16,358 insurance trust agreements not yet matured or operative supported by insurance policies with a face value aggregating $696,758,940.

Three hundred and ninety-eight of the banks spent $245,623 during the year for trust advertising, 39 banks employed full-time trust solicitors, and 94 banks utilized the services of part-time trust solicitors.

National bank branches numbering 215 on June 30, 1933 were actively engaged in administering 13,271 trusts, with individual trust assets aggregating $801,044,099, and were acting as trustees for outstanding bond and note issues amounting to $410,703,238.

The following tables show in detail the activities of national banks in the trust field, segregated, first, according to capital of the banks; second, according to the population of places in which the banks were located; third, according to Federal Reserve districts; fourth, analysis of the type of investments held in trust, with a supplemental table showing the extent to which national bank branches were furnishing trust service to the communities in which they were located.

NATIONAL BANK FAILURES

During the year ended October 31, 1933, receivers were appointed for 348 national banks. Of such total appointments, 29 were made for the purpose of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments, the collection of which was necessary under contracts to succeeding institutions which purchased the assets of the banks under terms by which depositors were paid in full. Of the remaining 319 appointments for actual failures, none was restored to solvency during the current year, leaving the entire 319 to be liquidated by receivers. However, 9 insolvent national banks for which receivers were appointed in 1932 were terminated during the current year other than through liquidation, 8 thereof having been restored to solvency and 1 eliminated as an insolvent national bank through revocation of the receiver's commission as of the date of issuance. These figures for the year 1933 may be compared with 333 receivers' appointments during the previous year for actual failures, 16 of which were restored to solvency, with the appointment of receivers for 47 banks to complete unfinished business or to enforce stock assessments.

In a further analysis of the 348 receivers' appointments for the past year exclusive of the 29 appointments for purpose of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments referred to in the preceding paragraph, it is found that 105 appointments were for actual suspensions due to closing prior to March 6, the date of the bank-holiday proclamation, 3 for banks suspended under the bank holiday not subsequently licensed and for which conservators had not been appointed, 208 for banks suspended under the bank holiday and placed in charge of conservators prior to receivers' appointments, and 3 for banks licensed to reopen prior to March 16 but subsequently found insolvent. The capitalization of the 348 banks for which receivers were appointed during the past year was $76,107,500, as compared with the capitalization of the 380 banks for which receivers were appointed during the previous year of $50,505,585.

During the year ended October 31, 1933, total costs incurred in the liquidation of insolvent national banks as reported by receivers amounted to but 3.2 percent of total collections from all sources including offsets allowed for a like period. This percentage of costs to collections for the year 1933 may be compared with percentages of 3 and 3.2 for the years 1931 and 1932, respectively. Total collections from all sources including offsets allowed, as reported by receivers for the year ended October 31, 1933, amounted to $356,678,150, while similar collections for the years 1931 and 1932 aggregated $132,998,054 and $263,482,046, respectively.

The early liquidation of insolvent national banks has been greatly facilitated through the granting of loans to receivers of such banks by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the purpose of paying dividends. Loans so obtained by receivers of insolvent national banks during the year ended October 31, 1933, as indicated by the records of this office, amounted to $30,204,332. Total loans obtained by receivers from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation from the date of the organization thereof to October 31, 1933, as indicated by the records of this office, amounted to $53,888,798. An indication of the general distribution of and benefit derived from these loans by the depositors of insolvent national banks is evident from the fact that such loans both hastened and increased the payments of dividends to depositors of 559 insolvent national banks located in 38 of the 48 States and in the District of Columbia.

Some further facilitation in the liquidation of insolvent national banks has been secured during the past year through the consummation of approximately eight sales of assets at par value and interest by receivers of insolvent national banks to other going institutions under the so-called Spokane plan. These sales of assets are found to have resulted in the immediate distribution of dividends by receivers in the aggregate amount of approximately $14,650,000.

Relative to the length of time required to complete liquidation of insolvent national banks a compilation has been made covering those insolvent national banks finally closed during the year ended October 31, 1933, as well as for those receiverships finally closed during the 12-year period November 1, 1921, to October 31, 1933. From data compiled it has been found that insolvent national banks finally closed during the year ended October 31, 1933, exclusive of those banks which were restored to solvency and those for which receivers were appointed for the purpose of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments only, required an average period of 5 years and 10 months for complete liquidation, with a minimum period of 2 years and 2 months. With reference to insolvent national banks the affairs of which were finally closed during the 12-year period November 1, 1921, to October 31, 1933, excluding those banks restored to solvency and banks for which receivers were appointed for the purpose of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments only, the average period of liquidation is found to have been 4 years and 10 months.

Receiverships, year ended October 31, 1933

Of the 348 national banks for which receivers were appointed during the past year, none was restored to solvency, leaving the entire number of 348 banks to be administered by receivers. Of the 348 national banks so administered by receivers, 29 appointments were made for the purpose of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments, leaving 319 banks to be actually liquidated by receivers. The capital of the 348 insolvent national banks for which receivers were appointed was $76,107,500. The capital of the 29 banks for which receivers were appointed to complete unfinished business or to enforce stock assessments was $3,735,000 and the capital of the remaining 319 banks to be actually liquidated by receivers was $72,372,500.

Stock assessments levied by the Comptroller of the Currency to October 31, 1933, against shareholders of the 348 national banks administered by receivers, with capital of $76,107,500 amounted to $56,900,000, while the assets of such banks, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, totaled $1,035,468,388. Collections from these assets, including offsets allowed and collections from stock assessments as reported by receivers to October 31, 1933, amounted to 23.31 percent of such assets and stock assessments. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

In addition to the above record, it is found that total secured and unsecured claims proved as reported by receivers to October 31, 1933, in connection with these banks aggregated $174,509,139. The outstanding circulation of the 348 receiverships at date of failure was $37,711,736, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of the par value of $39,120,550. Total deposits of these banks at date of failure amounted to $796,750,893, while borrowed money, consisting of bills payable, rediscounts, etc., totaled $83,496,229.

Receiverships, 1865-1933

From the date of the first failure of a national bank in the year 1865 to October 31, 1933, 2,514 national banks have been placed in charge of receivers. Of this number, 117 have been restored to solvency and either reopened or sold to other institutions and one bank eliminated through revocation of the receiver's commission as of the date of issuance, leaving 2,396 to be administered by receivers. Of these so administered, 1,241 are still in process of liquidation and 1,155 have been entirely liquidated and the affairs thereof finally closed.

The capital of the 2,514 insolvent national banks at the date of failure exclusive of the one bank eliminated through revocation of the receiver's commission was $325,425,505. The capital of the 117 banks that have been restored to solvency was $18,130,000. The capital of the 1,241 banks that are still in process of liquidation was $184,270,085, and the capital of the 1,155 banks that have been completely liquidated was $123,025,420.

The aggregate book value of the assets of the 2,396 administered receiverships, including assets acquired after suspension, was $2,906,392,543, in addition to which there have been levied against shareholders assessments aggregating $245,613,325. Total collections from these assets as reported by receivers to October 31, 1933, including offsets allowed and collections from stock assessments, amounted to 41.94 percent of the total of such assets and stock assessments. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

In addition to this record of distribution there have been returned to shareholders, through their duly elected agents, assets of a book value of $16,621,742. The outstanding circulation of these 2,396 receiverships at date of failure was $138,122,022, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of the par value of $143,714,470, while total deposits at date of failure amounted to $1,932,605,298.

Active receiverships as of October 31, 1933

The 1,241 banks that were, as of October 31, 1933, still in charge of receivers and in process of liquidation had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $2,168,456,988. The capital of these banks was $184,270,085, and there had been levied by the Comptroller of the Currency to October 31, 1933, stock assessments against their shareholders in the amount of $161,987,585. The collections from these assets, including offsets allowed and collections from stock assessments, as reported by receivers to October 31, 1933, amounted to 35.74 percent of such assets and stock assessments. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

In addition to the above record, it is found that total secured and unsecured claims proved against these 1,241 receiverships as of October 31, 1933, aggregated $807,747,297. The outstanding circulation of the 1,241 receiverships at date of failure was $88,584,262, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of the par value of $90,640,560. Total deposits of these banks at date of failure amounted to $1,540,081,561, while borrowed money consisting of bills payable, rediscounts, etc., totaled $254,055,306.

Receiverships terminated, 1865-1933

From the date of the first failure of a national bank in 1865 to the close of business October 31, 1933, 1,272 receiverships have been administered and the trusts closed or the affairs thereof restored to solvency. Included in this number are the 117 banks restored to solvency, 8 in 1933, and 69 the affairs of which were finally closed during the year 1933. The 1,155 banks administered by receivers had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $737,935,555. The capital of these 1,155 banks was $123,025,420, and there were levied by the Comptroller of the Currency stock assessments against their shareholders in the amount of $83,625,740. The collections from these assets, including offsets allowed and collections from stock assessments, as indicated by receivers' final reports, amounted to 58.54 percent of such assets and stock assessments. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

Liquidation statement, 1,155 administered receiverships, finally closed, 1865-1933

Collections:

Collections from assets, including offsets allowed and for accounting purposes, dividends paid secured creditors of all trusts finally closed Oct. 1, 1924, to Oct. 31, 1929.....	$439, 637, 794
Collections from stock assessments.....	41, 370, 673
Total.....	481, 008, 467

Disposition of collections:

Dividends paid to secured and unsecured creditors, on total secured and unsecured claims proved in the aggregate amount of $403,733,886.....	269, 426, 013
Payments to secured and preferred creditors, including offsets allowed, disbursements for the protection of assets, and for all trusts finally closed Oct. 1, 1924, to Oct. 31, 1929, dividends paid secured creditors.....	174, 921, 976
Payment of receivers' salaries, legal and other expenses.....	32, 030, 848
Cash returned to shareholders.....	4, 629, 630
Total.....	481, 008, 467

In addition to this record of distribution, there were returned to shareholders, through their duly elected agents, assets of a book value of $16,621,742.

From the above it will be noted that the average percentage of all dividends paid on the aggregate of secured and unsecured claims proved against the 1,155 receiverships that have been finally closed, but not including the 117 restored to solvency which paid 100 percent, was 66.76 percent. If payments to secured and preferred creditors, offsets, and other disbursements, as indicated above, were included with the dividends paid in this calculation, the total disbursements to creditors would amount to $444,347,989 or 76.79 percent of claims proved plus other liabilities paid but not included in the figure above of proved claims, or $578,655,862. In making the above calculations of percentages of payments to secured and preferred creditors no consideration has been given to those liabilities to creditors not claimed, as well as secured claims which were proved and upon which dividends were paid but which were subsequently eliminated from the total of claims proved by reason of having been paid in full out of the proceeds of collateral collections. The consideration of such unclaimed items, together with secured claims proved but not included in the total thereof set out in the table above, would reduce somewhat the percentages of payments to creditors as given.

Expenses incident to the administration of the 1,155 closed trusts, such as receivers' salaries, legal and other expenses, amounted to $32,030,848 or 3.90 percent of the book value of the assets and stock assessments administered, or 6.66 percent of collections from assets and stock assessments. The assessments against shareholders averaged 67.97 percent of their holdings and the total collections from such assessments as were levied were 49.47 percent of the amount assessed. The outstanding circulation of these 1,155 closed receiverships at date of failure was $49,537,760, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of the par value of $53,073,910, while total deposits at date of failure amounted to $392,523,737.

During the year ended October 31, 1933, 69 receiverships were finally closed, 8 receiverships were restored to solvency and either reopened or sold to other institutions and one bank was eliminated as a receivership through revocation of the receiver's commission as of the date of issuance. The 69 receiverships finally closed had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $50,954,827. The capital of these 69 banks was $6,255,000 and assessments against shareholders levied by the Comptroller of the Currency aggregated $4,730,000. The collections from these assets, including offsets allowed and collections from stock assessments as indicated by receivers' final reports, amounted to 57.12 percent of such assets and stock assessments. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

Liquidation statement, 69 administered receiverships finally closed year ended Oct. 31, 1933

Collections:

Collections from assets, including offsets allowed.....	$28, 986, 801
Collections from stock assessments.....	2, 817, 709
Total.....	31, 804, 510

Disposition of collections:

Dividends paid to unsecured creditors.....	15, 984, 882
Dividends paid to secured creditors.....	691, 330
Payments to secured and preferred creditors, other than through dividends.....	9, 472, 045
Offsets allowed and settled.....	3, 271, 364
Disbursements for the protection of assets.....	227, 131
Payment of receivers' salaries, legal and other expenses.....	2, 157, 758

Total.....	31, 804, 510
------------	---------------------

Total secured and unsecured claims proved against these 69 receiverships finally closed aggregated $27,555,739.

From the above it will be noted that the average percentage of all dividends paid on the aggregate of secured and unsecured claims proved against the 69 receiverships that were finally closed during the year ended October 31, 1933, but not including the 8 banks restored to solvency which paid 100 percent, was 60.18 percent. If payments to secured and preferred creditors, offsets, and other disbursements, as indicated above, were included with the dividends paid in this calculation, the total disbursements to creditors would amount to $29,646,752, or 73.15 percent of the total of claims proved plus other liabilities paid but not included in the figure above of proved claims, or $40,526,279.

It may also be of interest to note that the average percentage of dividends paid unsecured creditors, to deposits at date of failure of the 69 receiverships that were finally closed during the year ended October 31, 1933, but not including the 8 banks restored to solvency which paid creditors 100 percent, was 53.41 percent. The average percentage of dividends paid secured creditors, to total borrowed money, consisting of bills payable, rediscounts, etc., at date of failure of the 69 receiverships amounted to 7.84 percent. The inclusion of offsets allowed with dividends paid to unsecured creditors gives total payments of $19,256,246, or an average total return upon deposits at date of failure of 64.34 percent, while all payments to all creditors, consisting of offsets, dividends paid on both deposits and borrowed money, and other payments on secured and preferred liabilities amounted to $29,419,621, or an average total return of 75.95 percent upon all liabilities at date of failure in the amount of $38,738,156. In making the above calculations no consideration has been given to additional secured and unsecured liabilities of the 69 receiverships established subsequent to failure, the inclusion of which would reduce somewhat the percentages given.

Expenses incident to the administration of these 69 trusts, such as receivers' salaries, legal and other expenses, amounted to $2,157,758, or 3.87 percent of the book value of the assets and stock assessments administered, or 6.78 percent of collections from assets and stock assessments. The assessments against shareholders averaged 75.62 percent of their holdings and the total collections from such assessments as were levied were 59.57 percent of the amount assessed. The outstanding circulation of the 69 receiverships at date of failure was $2,713,750, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States, of a par value of $2,856,250. Total deposits of these banks at date of failure amounted to $29,929,256, while borrowed money, consisting of bills payable, rediscounts, etc., totaled $8,808,900.

State bank failures, District of Columbia

In addition to national bank receiverships during the year ended October 31, 1933, receivers were appointed by this office during such period for two State banks located in the District of Columbia. One of these banks had operated under a charter from the State of Alabama and the other had been incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia. The appointments of receivers for these banks were made under authority granted by existing legislation permitting banks incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia and banks with State charters to operate in the District of Columbia under supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency. Total assets of these two State bank receiverships, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregated $4,869,203. The capital of these banks was $1,100,000 and assessments against shareholders levied by the Comptroller of the Currency to October 31, 1933, aggregated $100,000.

The six State banks located in the District of Columbia that were as of October 31, 1933, still in charge of receivers appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency and in process of liquidation had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $9,148,397. The capital of these banks was $1,512,890 and there had been levied by the Comptroller of the Currency to October 31, 1933, stock assessments against their shareholders in the amount of $512,890. The collections from these assets, including offsets allowed and collections from stock assessments as reported by receivers to October 31, 1933, amounted to 19.22 percent of the total of such assets and stock assessments. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

Liquidation statement, 6 active receiverships as of Oct. 31, 1933

Collections:

Collections from assets, including offsets allowed.....	$1,740,703
Collections from stock assessments.....	115,614

Total.....	1,930,217

Liquidation statement, 6 active receiverships as of Oct. 31, 1933—Continued

Disposition of collections:

Dividends paid to unsecured creditors.....	$1, 027, 829
Dividends paid to secured creditors.....	18, 140
Payments to secured and preferred creditors other than through dividends.....	354, 698
Offsets allowed and settled.....	233, 719
Disbursements for protection of assets.....	59, 618
Payment of receivers' salaries, legal and other expenses.....	91, 934
Cash balances in hands of Comptroller and receivers.....	144, 279
Total.....	1, 930, 217

In addition to the above record, it is found that total secured and unsecured claims proved against these 6 District of Columbia State bank receiverships as of October 31, 1933, aggregated $2,935,272, total deposits $6,507,785 and borrowed money, consisting of bills payable, rediscounts, etc., $2,020,588.

ORGANIZATION AND LIQUIDATION OF NATIONAL BANKS

At the close of the current year, October 31, 1933, there were 5,799 national banking associations in existence, including inactive banks which had not gone into voluntary liquidation, suspended banks, and banks in charge of conservators for which no receivers had been appointed. Such institutions are technically in existence. This represents a net loss since October 31, 1932, of 305 banks, or approximately 5 percent, and $58,772,000 in the authorized common capital stock. However, at the close of the period under discussion there was outstanding $80,072,400 of preferred capital stock issued under the provisions of the act of March 9, 1933. During the current year 53 banks increased their common capital by the aggregate sum of $8,980,850. Of this number, three banks effected the increase by stock dividends, the amount of such increase being $260,000. During this period, by the issuing of preferred stock, 166 banks increased their capitalization by $48,739,100.

Covering the entire period of national banking operations, up to and including October 31, 1933, there have been authorized to begin business 13,820 national banking associations. Of these, 5,625 have voluntarily closed, some of which discontinued business; others merged with other banks, both State and national; and some consolidated with other national banking associations under authority of the act of November 7, 1918. Exclusive of banks which failed but which were subsequently restored to solvency, the loss to the system throughout this entire period by the liquidation of banks through receiverships has been 2,396, the number of these receiverships being a fraction less than 17.34 percent of the total number of banks organized.

During the year ended October 31, 1933, there were 155 national banks, with total capitalization of $26,805,000, which went into voluntary liquidation. Of this number 6, with capital of $1,025,000 and resources of $2,941,307, discontinued business; 93, with capital of $18,775,000 were acquired by other national banks; and 56, with capital of $7,005,000 and resources of $55,312,342, entered the State banking systems. The latter group included 3 banks of $300,000 capital or over, with aggregate capital of $2,950,000 and assets of $20,207,377.

November 1914 marked the inauguration of the operation of the Federal Reserve System. On that date there were in existence 7,578 national banks, with aggregate common capital of $1,072,492,175, as compared with a total common capitalization of $1,587,047,825 for the 5,799 national banks in existence on October 31, 1933; 235 of the national banks in existence took advantage of the act of March 9, 1933, by issuing preferred capital stock aggregating $80,072,400. There was a net decrease of 1,779 in the number of banks, but an increase in common capitalization of $514,555,650 in addition to preferred capitalization of $80,072,400. During this 19-year period 3,168 national banks were chartered, with aggregate common capital of $507,119,800 and a preferred capital of $31,347,000, while 4,947 such associations were closed voluntarily or otherwise.

During the year ended October 31, 1933, there were received 509 applications to organize national banks and to convert State banks into national banking associations, with proposed capital stock of $147,-616,000. Of these applications, 238 were approved, with proposed capital stock of $111,099,000; 44 were rejected, with proposed capital stock of $4,270,000; and the remainder were abandoned or no action was taken thereon. Of the 150 banks chartered, 50 were chartered to take over 52 banks which were in weakened condition, while 71 others were organized to acquire the assets and assume the liabilities of 75 suspended national banks and 7 State banks in charge of conservators or for which receivers were appointed. Only 29 of this total number of applications were approved for the primary organization of new national banking associations.

In this same year 176 national banking associations, with common capital of $43,414,500, were authorized to begin business, 20 of which were located in the New England States, 22 in the Eastern States, 53 in the Southern States, 65 in the Middle Western States, 9 in the Western States, and 7 in the Pacific States. During this period 69 of the banks chartered had in addition to their common capitalization preferred capital stock aggregating $31,347,000. The greatest activity, as indicated by the number of national banks organized, was evidenced in the following States: Illinois, 23; Texas, 22; Pennsylvania, 13; Michigan, 11; Maine, 10; Ohio, 9; Iowa, 8; Indiana, 6; Louisiana, 6; Maryland, 6; Oklahoma, 6; North Carolina, 5; Vermont, 4. In other States the number ranged from 1 to 3 banks.

It further appears that of the total number of charters issued within the year ended October 31, 1933, 12 with authorized common capital of $3,010,000 and preferred capital of $300,000 and resources aggregating approximately $40,933,287, were the result of conversions of State banks, 14 with common capital of $5,605,000 and preferred capital of $4,050,000 were reorganizations of 16 State banks, and 121 with common capital of $21,639,500 and preferred capital of $12,652,000 were primary organizations for the purpose of acquiring the business of 127 liquidating or suspended national banks and 7 State banks, and 29 with common capital of $13,160,000 and preferred capital of $14,345,000 did not acquire the business of any other banking institution. The business of 56 State banks, with capital of $4,195,000 and assets aggregating approximately $77,672,105, was purchased by national banks.

During the year ended October 31, 1933, 20 national banking associations were consolidated into 10, under authority of the act of November 7, 1918, the capital of the consolidated banks being $3,340,000. In each instance there was a reduction in capital, the net result by reason of these consolidations being a reduction in capital stock of $2,765,000. During the same period there were six consolidations under the act of February 25, 1927, involving the merger of six State banks with national banks, through which additional assets of approximately $204,437,091 were brought into the national system.

BRANCHES

On February 25, 1927, the date of the passage of the so-called McFadden bill, there were in existence in the national system 372 branches as compared with a total of 1,211 branches in existence on October 31, 1933.

During the intervening period 1,538 branches have been added to the system, of which 721 were de novo branches, 307 were branches of State banks which converted into national associations, and 510 were brought into the national system through consolidations of State with national banks, while 699 branches were relinquished, of which latter number 500 went out of the system through the liquidation of the parent institutions, and the remainder, 199, were discontinued through consolidations and for various other reasons. The net result of these operations was a loss for the national system of 103 branches for the period under discussion.

In the year ended October 31, 1933, a net loss of 103 branches in existence was recorded, 164 de novo branches being established, 58 of which were authorized under the Banking Act of 1933 in places other than local. There were no branches brought into the system during this period through the conversion of State banks, or the consolidation of State banks with national banks.

Two hundred sixty-seven branches were lost to the national system, 241 through liquidation of the parent bank and 26 through action of the directors and shareholders.

There follows a summary of branch-banking operations in the national system during the period discussed in the foregoing:

NATIONAL-BANK CIRCULATION

Consols and Panama 2% bonds outstanding eligible as security for national-bank circulation on June 30, 1933, aggregated $674,625,630, the same as on June 30 of the year previous, comprising $599,724,050 consols of 1930, $48,954,180 Panama Canal 2's of 1916-36, and $25,947,400 Panama Canal 2's of 1918-38. On June 30 of the current year the Treasurer of the United States held as security for national-bank circulation $565,944,300 of consols and $68,208,480 Panama Canal 2's, a total of $634,152,780, representing 94 percent of the aggregate of these classes of circulation bonds outstanding.

The circulation of national banks outstanding on June 30 this year, secured by all classes of eligible bonds and lawful money, amounted to $970,601,088. Of this amount $853,935,968 was secured by bonds and the remainder, $116,665,120, by lawful money held by the Treasurer to provide for the redemption of the notes of banks retiring their circulation and on account of associations in liquidation.

In the year ended October 31, 1933, the withdrawal of bonds held by the Treasurer of the United States in trust as security for national-bank circulation amounted to $271,767,570.

The withdrawals by reason of liquidation of banks amounted to $10,837,950, and on account of banks placed in charge of receivers, $23,008,860.

Bonds held by the Treasurer of the United States in trust as security for circulation were augmented to the extent of $324,736,410, on account of deposits made by newly organized banks, and by those increasing their circulation. The transactions of the year by months in each account named are shown in the following statement:

There is published in the appendix a table showing, by months, the profit on national-bank circulation based upon a deposit of $100,000 Panama Canal 2-percent bonds of 1916-36 at the average net price during the year ended October 31, 1933. The table includes also like figures relative to $100,000 of United States 2-percent consols of 1930 so far as may be computed. Due to the unknown date of maturity of the consols, however, it is impossible to determine the amount of sinking fund necessary to provide for liquidation of the premium paid for the bonds, and this must be known to calculate the profit on circulation secured by an investment in consols. The tables mentioned are supplemented by others showing the investment value of circulation bonds quarterly and the monthly range of prices in New York in the year ended October 31, 1933.

With reference to the Federal Home Loan Bank Act approved July 22, 1932, section 29 of which extended the circulation privilege to national banks for a period of 3 years upon the deposit with the Treasurer of the United States bonds with interest not exceeding 3½ percent heretofore issued or issued during the period, no calculation can be made of profit on circulation through bonds used for such purpose due to the indeterminate market value of the bonds at the end of the 3-year period.

REDEMPTION OF NATIONAL AND FEDERAL RESERVE BANK CIRCULATION

During the year ended June 30, 1933, national-bank notes and Federal Reserve notes aggregating $1,282,692,112.50 were redeemed in the United States Treasury at a total expense of $469,727.90.

Redemptions included Federal Reserve notes amounting to $910,596,665 and national-bank notes of $372,095,447.50, the latter amount including $44,192,620 redeemed on retirement account.

National-bank notes were redeemed at an average cost of $1.14 per $1,000; Federal Reserve notes received from various sources 83 cents per 1,000 notes, and canceled and other Federal Reserve notes received direct from Federal Reserve banks and branches 47 cents per 1,000 notes redeemed.

Statements showing the amount of national-bank notes and Federal Reserve notes received monthly for redemption in the year ended June 30, 1933, the source from which received, the rate per $1,000 of national-bank notes redeemed, and the rate per 1,000 notes of Federal Reserve notes redeemed are published in the appendix of this report.

CONDITION OF NATIONAL BANKS AT DATE OF EACH CALL DURING THE YEAR

Under authority of section 5211, United States Revised Statutes, national banks were called upon to submit three reports of condition during the year ended October 31, 1933, as of various dates specified by the Comptroller.

Summaries of resources and liabilities of reporting banks on the date of each call during the year, together with summary for September 30, 1932, are shown in the following statement:

EXPENSES OF THE CURRENCY BUREAU

By reference to the table following, showing in detail expenses relating to the maintenance of the Currency Bureau for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1933, it will be noted that the aggregate expenses were $6,078,329.56, of which $861,972.35 was paid from appropriations and $5,216,357.21 reimbursements by the banks. The salary rolls aggregated $805,013.77, of which $231,238.11 was paid from appropriations and the remainder from funds reimbursed by the banks.

Taxes paid by national banks on circulating notes issued amounted to $3,415,840.63. Deducting from this amount the expenses of the Bureau paid from congressional appropriations, $861,972.35, leaves the net income to the Government on account of the tax on circulation at $2,553,868.28.

NOTES

Act of Feb. 25, 1863, provided for reports of condition on the first of each quarter, before commencement of business.

Act of June 3, 1864—First Monday of January, April, July, and October, before commencement of business, on form prescribed by Comptroller (in addition to reports on first Tuesday of each month showing condition at commencement of business in respect to certain items; i.e., loans, specie, deposits, and circulation).

Act of Mar. 3, 1869, not less than 5 reports per year, on form prescribed by Comptroller, at close of business on any past date by him specified.

Act of Dec. 28, 1922, minimum number of calls reduced from 5 to 3 per year.

Act of Feb. 25, 1927, authorized a vice president or an assistant cashier designated by the board of directors to verify reports of condition in absence of president and cashier.

Act of June 16, 1933, requires each national bank to furnish and publish not less than three reports each year of affiliates other than member banks, as of dates identical with those for which the Comptroller shall during such year require reports of condition of the bank. The report of each affiliate shall contain such information as in the judgment of the Comptroller shall be necessary to disclose fully the relations between the affiliate and the bank and to enable the Comptroller to inform himself as to the effect of such relations upon the affairs of the bank.

<sup>1</sup> Exclusive also of certified, cashiers', and dividend checks outstanding, and of letters of credit and travelers' checks sold for cash and outstanding.<sup>2</sup> Combined excess of amounts due to banks over amounts due from banks as shown by individual bank reports. When, for a given bank, amounts due from banks exceed amounts due to banks, the excess due from cannot be deducted in determining deposits on which reserves are computed, and for this reason amounts in this column do not agree with the difference between aggregate amounts due to banks and due from banks. In this calculation the amounts due to banks include due to Federal Reserve banks (deferred credits), due to other banks and trust companies (subject to immediate withdrawal), certified, cashiers', and dividend checks outstanding, and letters of credit and travelers' checks sold for cash and outstanding; while amounts due from banks include items with Federal Reserve banks in process of collection, amounts due from banks and trust companies in United States (subject to immediate withdrawal), balances payable in dollars due from foreign branches of other American banks (subject to immediate withdrawal), and exchanges for clearing house and other checks on local banks.<sup>3</sup> Deficiencies in reserves indicated by a minus (—) sign.
